Item 8.01 Other Events

Extension for Filing of Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the Quarter Ended March 31, 2020

On March 4, 2020, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) issued an order under Section 36 (Release No. 34-88318) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (“Exchange Act”), granting exemptions from specified provisions of the Exchange Act and certain rules thereunder. On March 25, 2020, the order was modified and superseded by a new SEC order (Release No. 34-88465), which provides conditional relief to public companies that are unable to timely comply with their filing obligations as a result of the novel coronavirus (“COVID-19”) outbreak (the “SEC Order”).

Trio-Tech International (the “Company”) has experienced disruption due to the unprecedented conditions surrounding the COVID-19 pandemic. These disruptions include, but are not limited to, the timing of the COVID-19 pandemic restrictions in relation to the filing cycle for the Company’s third quarter Form 10-Q, the requirements that the Company’s corporate support staff work remotely, along with reduced staffing at our business locations and the differing governmental restrictions in the various jurisdictions in which the Company operates. While the design of our processes and controls allow for remote execution with accessibility to secure data, the Company has still inevitably been impacted in the interactions with its corporate support staff and other internal personnel responsible for the preparation and timely filing of its Quarterly Report.

The Company is relying on the SEC Order to extend the due date for the filing of its Form 10-Q for the third quarter ended March 31, 2020 due to circumstances related to the COVID-19 pandemic for a period of up to 45 days after the original due date therefor. We intend to file the Form 10-Q as soon as practicable, and in no event later than June 29, 2020, the end of the 45-day extension period.
